Welcome Spring, Charleston Style

Stroll Charleston's historic streets, and you'll soon notice the city's signature sign of welcome—window boxes overflowing with flowers. Our simple rule for great containers like this one: Plant a thriller (something tall), like spiky cordyline; a spiller (something to trail over the sides), like white bacopa; and colorful fillers, like yellow million bells, coral twinspur, and orange snapdragons.
